1. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

In South Carolina, most personal injury claims must be filed within three years from the date of the injury. Certain exceptions may apply.

2. COMPARATIVE NEGLIGENCE

South Carolina follows a modified comparative negligence rule. You can recover damages if you are less than 51% at fault, but your compensation may be reduced by your percentage of fault.

3. TYPES OF COMPENSATION

You may be entitled to compensation for:

- ✓ Medical bills
- ✓ Lost wages
- ✓ Pain and suffering
- ✓ Emotional distress
- ✓ Property damage

4. THE CLAIM PROCESS

We handle the legal process so you can focus on healing. From investigation to settlement or trial, we fight to get you the compensation
you deserve.
